LOCAL NEWS.

If you see it in the Townsman, it's news to be relied upon; if it is news and so, you'll see it in the Townsman.

James Scott's new house on Summer street is nearly ready for occupancy.

Hardy & Cole are to build an incline elevator at the Smith & Dove mills.

Bradford Clement of Chester, N. H., spent several days in Andover recently.

Two members of the Grand Council, R. A., visited the local council, last Friday evening.

The selectmen of Andover and North Andover perambulated the boundaries of the two towns Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. White entertained the Whist club at their home on North Main street, Monday evening.

The Whatsoever society is a band of enthusiastic, energetic little people, who are working for a worthy object.

The annual shooting match will take place at David Cunningham's on Thanksgiving day. All are cordially invited to attend.

Charles Hemenway, Jr., has left the news store, where he was employed by O. P. Chase as assistant clerk and paper boy.

Miss Millie Abbott of Vineland, N. J., made a short visit to her cousin, Mrs. Herbert F. Chase on Washington avenue, this week.

Buy your Christmas gifts at the Harvest festival at the Free church vestry next Thursday evening, and help the Whatsoever society.

Many Andover people saw the "Cadet Girl" at the Opera house, Lawrence, Monday night, and Mrs. Eiske in "Becky Sharpe," Tuesday night.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society will hold its next meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 20, at the South church, at three o'clock. Subject, "Our Indians."

The Florists and Gardeners' exhibition was continued until Saturday evening at 10 o'clock, owing to the bad weather and small attendance on the preceding days.

Chin Wing, the laundryman on Main street, who has been absent on a trip to China for several months, returned last week. He is bitterly opposed to the Boxer element in China.

It is reported that a Peabody concern is to locate at Ballardvale, having purchased the old hat shop property. The concern manufactures electrical goods, thermometers, etc.

The young son of Crosby Lowd, who was watching the Exeter game from a small tree near the field, received a bad fall by the breakage of a limb. He struck on his head and was rendered unconscious, in which condition he remained until Tuesday afternoon.

Sydney Peet, the trainer for the P. A. football eleven, left Andover, Wednesday for Natick, his work having been completed for this fall. He will probably return in the spring to get the track men in shape for the spring meets.

Next Saturday evening the annual meeting of the Burns club will be held at the Village hall. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year and other business of importance transacted, so that a large attendance of members is desirable. Refreshments will be served.

Robert O. Ryder, son of Professor Ryder, was married on the eighth of November, at the home of the bride, at Ironton, Ohio, to Miss Florence Wilson, daughter of Hon. Edward S. Wilson, United States Marshal in Porto Rico. Mr. and Mrs. Ryder will reside in Columbus, Ohio, where Mr. Ryder is a member of the staff of the Ohio State Journal.

New concrete crossings have been laid from High street, across Elm to the Musgrove, across Post-office court from Allen's to Valpey's and from Valpey's to Gleason's corner. A concrete gutter has also been laid across East Chestnut street. All the work has been done by M. M. Chase of Lawrence.

"Simon Jasper," a musical praise service, will be held at the Free church next Sunday evening in the series of popular services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Wilson. The choir will render special music. Last Sunday evening, the "Drink Habit" was discussed by the pastor and music was rendered by a trio consisting of Mrs. J. Newton Cole, Mrs. E. C. Pike and David May.

At the last meeting of the Cricket club it was decided that a minstrel show be given this winter. The club contains much musical talent and can probably secure the services of some of the best minstrels in town, so that the success of the undertaking is already assured. The club appointed the following committee on new club house: John N. Cole, Charles McDermitt and George A. Christie. The house will be a modern structure and considerable of an improvement over the old building.

A number of Lawrence and Andover people have been invited to attend the dedication of Trinity college, Washington, D. C., which will take place on the 22nd of this month. It is stated that the occasion will be one of the grandest affairs of the kind that ever took place in Washington.

The Boston Transcript says: "Jeanette Murphy has that charm of manner characteristic of Southern Women, and this added to the charm of her performance. She prefaced some of her songs, which were replete with humor and pathos, with stories about them, and this added to their interest and seemed to bring back a bit of old-time Southern life." Mrs. Murphy comes to Andover, Friday evening, December seventh.

A book of interest to Andover people has just been published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., "The Book of Saints and Friendly Beasts," being the old legends of "St. Bridget and the King's Wolf," "St. Jerome and the Lion," "St. Giles and the Deer," and fifteen others, gracefully told in prose and verse by Abbie Farewell Brown of Boston, who occasionally visits relatives here and is known to some of our best literary folk, and whose work in the magazines has received growing recognition.

CHAMBERLAIN'S PAIN BALM
CURES OTHERS, WHY NOT YOU?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well. Adolph L. A WOMAN, noticing the battered condition of her husband, asked if he had been in an encounter. "Worse than that," he replied, "it was a bargain counter!" There are some things you cannot buy at a bargain counter without being battered and beaten. One of these is tea. It might take some time to prove this. Here is a simpler way:—Buy a pound of Chase & Sanborn's Package Tea, hermetically sealed in the original lead form. Try it; it costs only a quarter of a cent a cup. You will never again drink bargain-counter tea.

WITH BRITON AND BOER

Interesting Lecture by Peter McQueen at Trinity Church, Lawrence.

Rev. Peter McQueen, formerly of the Congregational church of Somerville, who resigned at the time of the outbreak of the Cuban war, addressed a good sized audience at Trinity church Tuesday night and for over an hour and a half held the undivided and intense interest of the gathering with his excellent description of South Africa and the Boer war. His talk was made more vivid by his rare collection of views which were exhibited to great advantage by the stereopticon.

The name of Rev. Mr. McQueen is not a new one to the reading world, nor to the lover of good lectures, for he has written a great deal on some idea of the amount of lecturing which he does may be gained from the fact that he delivers thirty lectures this month one every evening.

He has spent much time in Cuba and the Philippines and while in the former place was a member of the Rough Riders, so consequently is an intimate friend of "Teddy" Roosevelt, vice-president-elect. His experiences in the Transvaal were many and in addition to the history of the country and the war which he gave last evening, he related a number of them, much to the pleasure of his listeners.

The South African colonists, he said, welcomed the government of Great Britain, until the quarrel about the Transvaal, when they crossed the Orange and Vaal rivers and laid the foundation for the Transvaal and Free State.

Mr. McQueen spoke of the Voortrekkers as follows: "They were not sordid and adventurous in quest of gold, but were sturdy, resolute, God-fearing men, rough in the unwholeness of nature, kings each of them, of two hands and one heart, who asked for no favor and gave none, who were at once a law unto themselves and a law to the world, and who were free to worship God."

He then discussed the discovery of gold and diamonds, bringing out the fact that three colored figures in the drama, Cecil Rhodes, Paul Kruger and Joseph Chamberlain.

The speaker then discussed his own experiences at Delagoa bay and the railway between it and Pretoria. He met President Kruger who said to him: "I do not dislike Englishmen, for they are frank, generous men and many of them have fallen in defense of the republic, but I am in the midst of the schemes of Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Chamberlain; they broke their treaty with me, they tore up their convention, and I forced me to the wall."

His visit to Johannesburg, the centre of the gold industry, was very interestingly related, and the stereopticon showed views of the city in 1886 and 1896. In the first instance there but one house and in the second the city had a population of 200,000 inhabitants.

In front of Bloemfontein, Mr. McQueen joined the army of Christian De Wet and later was prisoner in the hands of the British.

He then related the story of the battle of Stormberg, where the Boer army of three weeks during which time he met Winston Churchill, Lord Roberts, Rooslyn, and other prominent British officers. Right here he spoke in high praise of British bravery and generosity.

He left Pretoria with a pass from Lord Roberts and with no difficulty passed to the Boer lines. For several weeks he was in the camps of De La Rey and Boothe.

The speaker brought his interesting and instructive talk to a close with these words: "Briton and Boer and Black have laid their hands upon the same land, and each man as he fell vied with the other for his rights; perhaps they did; perhaps they were all mistaken. In the light of the new century which is opening, there is room for belief that we shall become a united people. Nations shall clasp hands like brothers long separated by misunderstanding, and war shall be no more."

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Lawrence Woman's club held its November meeting Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. George Russell, 57 Prospect street. In calling the ladies to order the president, Mrs. S. Wendell Abbott, made use of a beautiful eponymous gavel recently presented to the club by Mrs. George C. Howard.

The delegates to the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Thomas M. Cogswell and Mrs. George C. Howard, spoke briefly of the business transacted at that meeting.

Very interesting reports were read by Mrs. William H. Moore, who was in attendance at the biennial held in Milwaukee last June, and by Mrs. Frederick St. C. Herrick, who represented our club at the quarterly meeting held at Amherst in October.

The president, Mrs. Margaret Deland, then introduced Mrs. Margaret Deland, who spoke on "The Change in the Feminine Ideal"—or "The New Woman," as she would have liked to style her subject, had the term not been so sadly abused.

The new woman reveals herself in her restless discontent, and in her reaching out after something more and better, she scarcely knows what yet. But most of all is she revealed in her change of ideals. She is full of promise, and yet there is a threat accompanying the promise. It was to this danger that Mrs. Deland confined her thought. Our mothers, she said, led for duty, lovingly sacrificing themselves for us even to the point of self-sacrifice. They feared they had made us, their children, selfish, for now that the world is opening wide with dazzling opportunities we are too prone to consider our duty to ourselves, overlooking our duty to others. The desire to perfect herself is not a worthy one for a woman even in the religious life; to exploit self is safe only when for the benefit of humanity.

The speaker said that in the matter of reform in the social order the new woman needed a broader outlook and an ability to wait; that her desire to do all the work herself and have it finished at once was conducive to shallowness. Incidentally, Mrs. Deland defined the difference between the "new woman" and the "old woman" as follows: "The new woman is under present conditions; as unfavorable to divorce followed by remarriage; and as advocating temperance rather than prohibition. She deplored the emphasis on the difference in sex which resulted in 'women's buildings,' and 'women's papers,' and thought that a picture of a book ought to be valued because of its own worth and not merely because it was the work of a man or a woman."

HER ELECTRIC SPARK.

"Mille!"
The young woman twined his hat in his hands in an agitated manner and a tendency to get away from him.
"Mille, the fact is, I—I—I—here's something I've been wanting to tell you for a long time, but I can't seem to fetch it. When you look at me like that you know, it breaks me up. I've been coming here so long that I oughtn't to be afraid, I reckon, but—but you know how it is—or maybe you don't. I thought you're a little the liveliest were I ever—I didn't think it would be so hard when I—"
Here he came to a dead stop.
"Mille," he exclaimed in desperation, "I'm short circuited! I've burned out a fuse!"
"Ferry, are you trying to ask me to marry you?"
"Y-yes."
"Why, of course I will, you foolish boy."
And love's current flowed unobstructed again, lighting up with its pure radiance the long-embowered pathway that, etc., etc.

BRONCHITIS

We Know is Hard to Control.

Our Vinol is Making a Wonderful Record in Curing This Dangerous Disease.

CALL AND LET US TELL YOU ABOUT IT.

Here is a letter that has just come to our attention. It will interest people suffering from bronchial troubles. It is from Mr. Geo. W. Brown, of So. Hanover, N. H., and reads as follows:

"I have suffered with bronchial troubles for over a year; tried two doctors and have taken three or four kinds of medicine, none of which did me any good. At times I was so hoarse I could not speak. Then I heard of Vinol. After taking three bottles of it my voice has perfectly returned to me. I can see that in a short time I will be all right. When I began to take it I was very weak, but it has built me up and given me a good appetite."

This is what Vinol always does. This is the way Vinol accomplishes its mission of doing good.

Vinol, as we wish every one to know, owes its power of accomplishing the cures that it effects to the fact that it contains the most wonderful medicinal elements known to science for the cure of all wasting diseases, as well as being in itself a marvelous tonic. These medicinal properties exist and have heretofore been found only in cod-liver oil. Vinol contains these elements. For by a scientific process the necessary curative properties of the cod-liver oil have been separated from the fat and grease which formerly made cod-liver oil preparations so objectionable.

As long as Vinol does not contain any of the vile-smelling oil, and is prepared by combining the sought-after properties with a delicate table wine, it is a most delicious and palatable preparation.

We know of what we speak when we recommend Vinol, and because we do know that Vinol does all we claim for it, we unhesitatingly endorse it, and guarantee at any time to refund the money paid for the remedy if you are not satisfied it will do all we claim for it.

Beggar (insinuatingly)—I say, mister, havy you got any suggestions to make a feller wot ain't able to raise a penny to git shaved with?
Old Gentleman (passing on)—Yes; grow a beard.—Stray Stories.

APPEALED TO HIS CHIVALRY.

The other evening as a muscular person was passing a house a lady, who stood at the gate, called out to him: "Sir, I appeal to you for protection."

"What is the matter?" he asked, as he stopped short.
"There's a man in the house, and he won't go out of doors, though I have ordered him to."
"He won't, eh? We'll see about that. Thereupon the man gave the woman his coat to hold and sailed into the house. He found a man at the supper table and took him by the neck and remarked: "Nice style of brute you are, eh? Come out of this or I'll break every bone in your body!"

The man fought, and it was not until a chair had been broken and the table upset that he was hauled out of doors by the legs and given a fling through the gates.

"Now, then, you brass-faced old tramp, you move on, or I'll finish you." "Tramp! Tramp!" shouted the victim as he got up. "I'm no tramp. I own this property and live in the house."

"You do?"

"Yes, that's my wife holding your coat."

"Thunder!" whispered the muscular man, as he gazed from one to the other, and realized that it was the wife's method of finishing a man. She had been having with her husband. And then he made a grab for his coat and disappeared into the darkness.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Contagious Blood Poison is the most degrading and destructive of all diseases, as it vitiates and corrupts the entire system. The first sore or ulcer is followed by little red pimples on the body, mouth and throat become sore, the glands enlarge and inflame, copper colored spots appear, and hair and eyebrows fall out. These are some of the milder symptoms; they increase in severity, finally attacking the vital organs; the body is tortured with rheumatic pains and covered with offensive eating sores.

It is a peculiar disease, and so highly contagious that an innocent person handling the same articles used by one infected with this loathsome disease, may be inoculated with the virus. It can be transmitted from parent to child, appearing as the same disease or in a modified form—like Eczema or Scrofula.

Many an old sore or stubborn skin trouble appearing in middle life, is due and traceable to blood poison contracted in early life. You may have taken potash and mercury faithfully for two or three years and thought you were cured, but you were not, for these poisonous minerals never cure this disease; they drive it from the outside, but it is doing its work on the inside, and will show up again sooner or later. You may not recognize it as the same old taint, but it is. S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison, and it will cure you. It is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only antidote for this poison. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly of every particle of the poison—there is never any return of the disease.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Contagious Blood Poison is the most degrading and destructive of all diseases, as it vitiates and corrupts the entire system. The first sore or ulcer is followed by little red pimples on the body, mouth and throat become sore, the glands enlarge and inflame, copper colored spots appear, and hair and eyebrows fall out. These are some of the milder symptoms; they increase in severity, finally attacking the vital organs; the body is tortured with rheumatic pains and covered with offensive eating sores.

It is a peculiar disease, and so highly contagious that an innocent person handling the same articles used by one infected with this loathsome disease, may be inoculated with the virus. It can be transmitted from parent to child, appearing as the same disease or in a modified form—like Eczema or Scrofula.

Many an old sore or stubborn skin trouble appearing in middle life, is due and traceable to blood poison contracted in early life. You may have taken potash and mercury faithfully for two or three years and thought you were cured, but you were not, for these poisonous minerals never cure this disease; they drive it from the outside, but it is doing its work on the inside, and will show up again sooner or later. You may not recognize it as the same old taint, but it is. S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison, and it will cure you. It is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only antidote for this poison. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly of every particle of the poison—there is never any return of the disease.

CURE YOURSELF AT HOME. Send for our Home Treatment book which gives a history of the disease in all stages, and is the result of many years of close study of blood poison and actual experience in treating it. You can cure yourself perfectly and permanently at home, and your secret is your own. Should you need any information or medical advice at any time, write to our physicians. They have made a life study of blood diseases, and will give you letter prompt and careful attention. Consult them as often as you please; we make no charge whatever for this service. All correspondence is conducted in the strictest confidence.

Women.

"The most beautiful object in the world, it will be allowed, is a beautiful woman."—Macaulay.

She who has no ambition to be beautiful will never yield the sceptre of womanly power—some one has said, and George Elliot says: "The beauty of a lovely woman is like music." A woman of her expansive mind uttered no such sentiment in a narrow sense. The beauty of a lovely woman is like some sweet song whose cadences come back again and again, the strains of which are almost lost upon the dreamy listener whose heartstrings memory is lightly touching.

A notable change in modern thought is the entirely different attitude almost universally assumed on the subject of women's beauty. It is recognized now as a symbol of excellence within, and with the recognition comes a sense of personal responsibility for its possession. It is not very long ago that there existed a certain prejudice against the endowment of physical beauty, it being considered a dangerous gift, and neither girl or woman could have devoted the thought and time to personal care which is now considered necessary without being charged with the heinous fault of vanity. Today the best compliment a woman can receive is that she is "well groomed."

Desire is one of the misunderstood forces of nature. It fixes ambition upon an object for which to strive, but it affords not the slightest hint of the means which can aid us to achieve success, and this accounts for the many almost pathetic failures among those whose chief aim and ambition in life is to be at least attractive, if not beautiful.

Mere physical beauty without high moral worth is but a shadow, and its history is written in blood. The tragedy and calamity that spread far beyond the originating cause, like ripples on the placid surface of the water when a pebble is tossed into it.

The Helens, Cleopatras and Lucretias Borgia are examples of this fatal type but when beauty of person is united to beauty of character and a high moral purpose regulate the emotions and an intellect that places its refining stamp upon the face it lends a dignity and grace to every movement.

There are the women, who are the glory of history, the cry of the human race. Ruskin says: "I could multiply witness upon witness of this kind upon you if I had the time." Again, quoting Ruskin, "That great Egyptian people, wisest then of nations, gave to their spirit of wisdom the form of a woman; and into her hand for a symbol, the weavers' shuttle  the name and the form of that spirit, adored, believed and obeyed by the Greeks, became that Athena of the olive-leaf and cloudy shield to whose faith you owe down to this date, whatever you hold most precious in art, in literature, or in types of national virtue."

Many are the forces, varied and complicated, ever at work making and marred beauty, considered in its purely physical aspect. Climate, diet, air and water, all are factors for good or ill and these are more or less under individual control. Help the world, however, live their lives in utter ignorance of their vast importance, and it is not an ignorance that is bliss, for in respect to fresh air and pure water alone it results in a state of semi-starvation from which the well-to-do and rich suffer quite as much as their poorer fellows.—Exchange.

FOOTNOTES.

The light housekeeping people sometimes have to cut magazine leaves with the can opener.

The way door keys act when people are in a hurry is another small matter which impedes the spiritual life.

The roar of a lion can be heard farther than the sound of any other living creature. Next comes the cry of the hyena and then the hoot of the owl. After these the panther and jackal. The donkey can be heard 50 times farther than the horse, and the cat 10 times as far as the dog. Strange as it may seem, the cry of a hare can be heard farther than that of either the cat or dog to 60 miles of hair upon her head.

Help...
Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York

An Open Letter to the State of Colorado.

My Dearly Beloved State:—There seems to be a suspicion abroad that you are going to do something foolish again next November, hence I rise to remark that I listened with great interest to your eloquent sons four years ago as they traveled over the state demanding many desirable things. You polled practically a unanimous vote for the policies which you thought would be the quickest to bring these desirable things.

You demanded work for your idle sons. You got it. You have had to send beyond your borders for coal miners and railway laborers. You never had so many people employed as now.

You wanted your idle capital to be employed. You got it. Not only yours, but outside capital has come in abundance.

You wanted to see the smoke curling from the stacks of your smelters, mills and factories.

It came. Many have since been kicking about the smoke nuisance.

You wanted the savings banks deposits to increase.

You got it. Never so large in your history as at present.

You wanted to see interest rates decrease that your people would borrow more cheaply wherewith to develop your resources.

You got it. Interest has never been so low now.

You don't squirm. I know you wanted all these things, for I heard your orators, silver and gold, say that you did.

You demanded more money. The circulation must be increased per capita. You got it. It has increased with marvelous rapidity for four years.

You wanted silver at 16 to 1.

You got it. That is the legal ratio now.

You demanded that one dollar be just as good as another.

You got it. That is the kind we have now, and you can get all the silver or paper you want at any bank.

You demanded $1 wheat.

You got it. Didn't you?

You demanded the markets of the world for your surplus products and goods.

You got it. Got it so sudden it almost dazzled you. Most rapid and wonderful growth in foreign trade in our history. Balance of trade in our favor grew far beyond our fondest dreams.

You wanted us to stop borrowing money in Europe which drained the country of money to pay interest. I heard your governor say so.

You got it. We stopped it, and Europe is now borrowing from us, and the interest money is coming this way.

You wanted the government to collect every dollar of the Pacific railroad debt, instead of a PORTION, as Mr. Cleveland proposed.

You got what you wanted. Mr. McKinley made them pay every cent, principal and interest.

You wanted Cuba liberated.

It is done.

You wanted the rights of our people maintained at home and abroad.

It has been done.

What you really wanted the worst was what Mr. McKinley promised, AN HONEST DOLLAR AND A CHANCE TO EARN IT.

You got both. Not from the Bryanites, but it was none the less acceptable to the man behind the dinner buffet.

If you want more things of this sort you can get them from the same source.

But here are some of the things that you wanted that you did not get.

You wanted every state to lawfully curb and justly tax its own trusts.

You didn't get it. Your own legislators ignored it. And your governor has just said a brick, and his followers have just hurled rotten eggs and foul epithets at the only governor who has had the courage to tackle and successfully tax the trusts within his state.—Roosevelt.

You wanted to see congress regulate the trusts that the states could not reach. You wanted the Constitution amended to give the government power to cope with the question.

You did not get it,—because every Bryanite in Congress voted against the measure for fear it would interfere with states' rights. The state governments that were doing nothing must not be interfered with.

You wanted wise laws enacted and a clean economical government of your own at the capitol, in Denver.

You didn't get it. Instead you got an unconstitutional eight-hour law which caused a labor war, and you got a prize fight law. The chief work of your law makers.

You wanted your different state institutions provided with money to run them as you had a right to expect from sane and competent legislators.

You didn't get it. You are the only state in the Union today whose asylums, schools, etc., are being sustained by private loans from public-spirited citizens.

You wanted Bryan, who promised you panics, misery, starvation, distress, famine and pestilence if he were not elected.

You got none of them.

If you want any more things of this sort you can get them from the same source.

Trouble between Deputy Collectors

Ransom F. McCrillis of Methuen, who has been deposed as deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, by Collector James D. Gill, who alleges that Mr. McCrillis has been dishonest, was interviewed by a reporter Tuesday morning just as he was about to leave for Boston to meet Mr. Gill and demand an explanation.

Mr. McCrillis flatly denies Collector Gill's charge. "So far as I know," he said, "I do not owe the government one cent, but if Mr. Gill can prove to me that I do, I will pay the amount at once. However, I am sure he cannot point out a single penny which has been wrongfully converted."

Mr. McCrillis was evidently much disturbed over Mr. Gill's statements as published in the morning papers, and frequently during the interview tears filled his eyes.

"He ought to turn a man down without notice," said the ex-deputy, "but it is outrageous to rush to the press with such charges without giving me a chance to say a word in my behalf. There are two sides to every story. I can explain every charge the collector makes. He has not given me the opportunity, but I shall see him today and demand an explanation."

"The instance he cites in Haverhill, where a woman is said to have paid me $20 looks bad until it is explained. The district attorney and the Haverhill police know all about that transaction. I went to them at the time and told them. An attempt was made to blackmail me. I went to the house by appointment after receiving $30 on the revenue tax, to get the balance due. I was asked to step into a room and the minute I got in the door was locked on the outside and I was told I could not get out until I had paid back the $30. I refused and gave the woman two minutes to let me out. When she failed I broke down the door. I was not in the house over five minutes and I went at once to Marshal Worcester and told him about the matter."

"I have something to say, also, about the other charges, but I want to see Mr. Gill first. I wish to say that he never came near me to get my side of the case. The first I knew of the trouble, was when I got Mr. Gill's letter of dismissal."

Mr. McCrillis declares that politics is at the bottom of his removal. He says he is being persecuted to cover up something else. He called the reporter's attention to the fact that Mr. Gill is seeking a re-appointment, his term being about to expire.

"I could disclose a good deal about Mr. Gill if I desired," he said; "but I prefer not to make anything more than a general statement now. I have tried my best to do my duty faithfully and honestly. It has been a responsible position and I have handled lots of money. In fact, I have made more collections than were ever made in this district. I have never whimpered when I have been assailed personally, but when the charge of dishonesty in money matters is made, it cuts me to the quick, for the charge is not true. I had a general statement now, I have received, and I think that had something to do with the attack on me. I have nothing more to say now, but probably will have later."

The telegram has received the following explanatory letter in regard to the case:

Boston, Mass., Nov. 10th 1900.

Editor of the Telegram:

Dear Sir:—I have today revoked Ransom F. McCrillis' commission as Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, and tax-payers in your vicinity should until further notice, make all returns direct to this office, properly sworn to before a justice or notary.

If any person has paid taxes for which no stamp has been received, the collector, Gill desires the full particulars, as well as information if an amount has been paid by taxpayers in excess of the amounts indicated in the upper left hand corner of the tax stamps received by them, and for which no receipt was given them, in addition to the tax stamp, at the time the tax stamp was issued by the office in Boston.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES D. GILL, Collector.

On Saturday last Collector Gill sent the following letter of dismissal to Deputy McCrillis:

In the course of a lengthy interview, Collector Gill said that for some time past he has noticed slight irregularities in McCrillis' returns, but it was not until about two weeks ago that he was convinced that there was something wrong with his deputy's finances. He began a personal examination, and soon satisfied himself that McCrillis needed a further investigation.

He discovered, he says, that McCrillis had held back various taxes paid by divers merchants in his district, and complaints were being received that internal revenue stamps for which McCrillis had been paid had not been delivered. The collector says that in order to ascertain the full amount of McCrillis' shortage, the account of every merchant in the district will have to be examined, and this will take some time.

"I have already enough evidence," said Mr. Gill last evening, in discussing the affair, "to punish McCrillis, but the matter rests with the department."

Mr. Gill also intimates that there were several incidents of a sensational character in Haverhill pertaining to the payment of license fees.

"A personal investigation made by myself on Nov. 7 at Gloucester, and on Nov. 8 at Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill, satisfied me beyond a doubt that you are neither truthful nor honest, and that your habits and character as a man entirely unfit you for any responsible position in the internal revenue service."

"I, therefore, revoke your commission as a deputy collector, to take effect immediately, and direct that you turn over to Deputy Collector Augustus T. Sweet and Thomas K. Keefe all money returns, keys to the office, and all money, books, papers, forms, etc., now in your possession. "Due notice will be given you when I am ready to see you."

HIS PRACTICAL REASON.

Politics are absorbing. So the gushing young woman, talking to a congress, decided "See those distance stars." "Oh, did you ever give thought to those people so far away?"

"Yes, I believe I have thought of it" was the dubious reply.

"And that they may be inhabited by human beings that hope and struggle as we do," continued the young woman, earnestly. "Oh, did you ever give thought to those people so far away?"

"No," was the answer. "I've never thought of them at all."

"Why not?" demanded his questioner. "Well," said the man reflectively, "I suppose that one reason may be that they don't vote in my district."—Woman's Journal.

Prominent Lawrence Men Dead.

Ex-Mayor George S. Jenkins is dead. After an illness of a few hours he succumbed to heart failure, shortly before 11 o'clock Monday morning. He was attended by Dr. Rogers Rutter who stood by his bedside, when he breathed his last, and up to the very last moment of his life he was conscious.

Little realizing the short while their father had to live, two of his daughters, Helen and Marion, returned to college this morning, only to be telegraphed for in a few hours, to come home as quickly as possible.

Sunday morning he was first taken ill and Dr. Rutter was summoned. He treated him for what to all appearances was an attack of bilious colic, and gradually he was relieved of the intense pain.

Shortly before noon, the doctor was again called and this time Mr. Jenkins was found to be even worse than before. Every possible aid was rendered and at length he showed signs of improvement. He spent a fair night, but this morning when Dr. Rutter made her visit she saw at a glance that her patient had but a short while to live.

She told Mrs. Jenkins that her husband was dying of heart failure and Dr. Scott was hastily summoned in consultation. Mr. Jenkins however, was past all earthly aid, and about 10:45 o'clock he died. Dr. Rutter had given him a spoonful of medicine, to prolong life as long as possible, and just as he was about to give him the second spoonful, he expired.

He is survived by a widow, three daughters, Bertha, who teaches in Brookline, Helen, who attends Boston University, and Marion who attends Radcliffe college; a brother, Captain Jenkins, who is visiting at the Jenkins home, 61 Ames street, at the present time, and a half sister, Mrs. A. A. Stevens of Dover, N. H.

Hon. George S. Jenkins was 54 years of age, and for a number of years had lived in this city where his fellow citizens had honored him on several occasions by electing him to various political offices.

He was born in North Berwick, Me., May 10, 1846, and lived there until he was 23 years of age, when he came to Lawrence. His education was received in the public schools of North Berwick and West Lebanon, and in 1870 he married Miss Josephine McDuffee.

In 1871, he entered into business relations with A. H. Mellen and remained in connection with him until 1886 when he was elected mayor of Lawrence.

After retiring from politics in December 1897, he became affiliated with the Mason Safety Tread company. In the following year, in 1898, having left the company, he entered into partnership with Mr. Stanley, in the hay and grain business and remained in that enterprise until his death.

For a number of the years of his life spent in this city he was prominent in politics having been elected to both branches of the city government and subsequently, in 1896 and 1897, having been honored with two successive mayoral elections. He was also a member of the water board for five years.

William A. Smith of the firm of Stedman & Smith, machinists, dropped dead about 7 o'clock Monday night. Mr. Smith came out from Boston at 6:30 o'clock. He was on his way home from the South Lawrence station and had arrived about opposite the late Edward W. Barton's house at 3 Winthrop avenue, when he must have been stricken by the fatal illness for he was found lying on the sidewalk a short while later by a passerby. Dr. Manahan and the police ambulance were summoned. When the doctor arrived he found that the man was dying and was beyond medical assistance. He died before the ambulance arrived. After the remains were viewed by Medical Examiner Howe they were taken to the home of the deceased, 452 South Union street. The cause of death was given as heart failure.

William A. Smith was born in Keighley, England, 1841. He came to this city in 1879 and later entered into partnership with Captain, now Major William L. Stedman. Their place of business is on Marston street. His wife died about eight years ago. He leaves one sister with whom he resided.

TO WED A COUNTESS.

Maj. Eldredge of the 8th Mass regt. is to wed the young marquise da Medici, whose name is Cressida Peruzzi. She is a descendant of old Leonardo da Medici, patron of art and learning, and of all the other great Medicis who made the Florence of old the greatest city of the day.

He is now on the ocean en route to sunny Italy.

The mother of the marquise was Edith Story, daughter of W. W. Story, the American sculptor, who made his fame in Italy. Among her relatives was Mrs. Eldredge of Beacon street, mother of Maj. Eldredge.

Mrs. Eldredge visited the Peruzzis while the little Cressida was still very young. Later the visit was returned. Then Cressida met her big "Cousin Ned," as she called him.

Within a few weeks the daughter of the south will become Mrs. Eldredge of W. Cedar street, Boston. The major's mother and his two sisters have gone across the water to witness the ceremony. The honeymoon will be spent in Venice, but the new year will see the fair bride installed in her Boston home.

The Latest Street Railway Move.

The dismissal of the petition of the Lawrence and Reading railroad, by the board of Railroad commissioners, seems to have been due to a ruling on a technicality. No one is to blame for this situation, for the selectmen granted the petition to them as nine out of ten such petitions have been granted throughout the state; the original grant not stating any specific location, but such specific location being given later when the time for construction came. The commissioners ruled as they did because, as stated by the chairman, they considered it necessary for a specific location to be named, before any protest could be of avail, or any nuisance exist.

The question now comes back for the selectmen to further consider. They are confronted by a peculiar proposition, and one which is more complicated than ever. If they grant a second location on Main street a strong protest will follow; if they refuse to grant one on Main street a great travelling public will be seriously inconvenienced, for we can see very little merit to the L. L. & H. proposition for exchange of transfers. With both of these "ifs" disposed of, some other route is again likely to be suggested, and a new issue again involved thereby.

We have believed from the outset the proper settlement of the difficulty to be one track on Main street used by both roads, the passing of cars to be accomplished by long turns in the square and on the hill. The law says that such an arrangement can be made only through mutual agreement of the two roads, and in this case the L. L. & H. objects. The next step is clearly an appeal to the legislature, and we most emphatically urge such an appeal before any action is taken that shall work mischief to any other Andover streets.

There is no doubt but that the present difficulty arises solely on account of the speculative features involved. At a price the L. L. & H. road is valuable to the L. L. & H. Clearly it is not worth as much, and won't cost as much if it has a break for its through traffic, from Andover hill to the square. It is for the interest of the L. L. & H. road, from a business standpoint, to keep that break as it is, and per contra it is of equal importance to the L. L. & H. road to mend the break and thus greatly appreciate its stock.

But the public of Andover at large, has not a particle of interest in this side of the question. The public wants to be carried from Andover square to Lawrence, to Reading or to Haverhill. Those who ride do not want to transfer on the edge of the town, nor do they want to change cars twice, in order to get to North Andover. The citizens of Andover do not want to give up two streets, or all of one street to accomplish what one track on a part of one street can very satisfactorily accomplish.

We sincerely hope that careful steps will be taken in this matter at its present critical stage.

The Gas Situation.

The fact that a hearing is called for Dec. 3, to consider two petitions for gas franchises in Andover, is about all there is to be said about the gas business this week. Mr. Barnard contributes his side of the question in another column, the burden of which seems to be a plea for support on local grounds. This is in fact the issue upon which the selectmen are to be called to act; whether rights shall be granted to a well organized company already doing a successful business, but outside the town limits, or to a local company, to be organized to do a business, the success of which time alone can determine.

There seems to be no better suggestion to make to the public this week, in connection with this latest problem, than the suggestion to go slow and consider all sides before a commitment to either side.

Editorial Cinders.

By the way, where is the town counsel to be placed in these times of need of legal advice? Just exactly how do we harmonize the lawyer advising the selectmen at so much per year, and the same lawyer remonstrating against their acts, ostensibly on his own account but actually for the benefit of one of the parties most interested in nullifying the selectmen's actions? The game seems to be one of "who's who and what's what?"

The petition regarding the enforcement of the liquor law in town is noted elsewhere. There is a good deal to be said upon this subject and there are points to be considered not appreciated by many worthy citizens. Next Friday's Townsman will contain something of interest upon the question.

HEARING IS POSTPONED

Railroad Commissioners Discuss L. & R. Petition and Adjourn Hearing.

The hearing, advertised by the Railroad Commissioners to be held Thursday for the consideration of the Andover street railway problem, came to an abrupt ending. After reading the notices, the chairman asked to see the route to be followed on Main street by the L. & R. road; upon the reply that no specific location had been granted, he stated that the duty of the Railroad Commissioners was to affirm or deny a definite and specific location.

As such a location was not named in the selectmen's grant, they should dismiss the petition of the L. & R. road. The matter comes back to the selectmen upon the grant of a specific location, and it is then proper for the remonstrants to again appear against an approval of such location by the Railroad Commissioners.

Lawyer Wm. Odlin represented the remonstrants and there were present from Andover as interested parties, the Selectmen, Judge Poor, Prof. Smyth, A. H. Hardy, Arthur Bliss, Barnett Rogers, A. P. Richardson, J. E. Smith, and John N. Cole. The interested roads were represented by their officials and by counsel.

Thrown From Her Carriage.

Mrs. Samuel T. Mooers of East Haverhill street, Lawrence, was injured by a fall from her carriage while driving in Andover late last Tuesday afternoon. With her daughter Miss Nina, they were returning from a drive about Andover by way of Poor street, Frye Village.

In endeavoring to turn down a short cut leading from South Broadway to South Union street, the vehicle got slightly off the beaten track. Miss Nina thought the vehicle was about to overturn and jumped out but her action only hastened the capsize as it threw the weight all on the side of the wagon on which Mrs. Mooers sat. Fortunately the latter fell on the grass, thus being preserved from very serious injuries. She was rendered unconscious and was carried into Dr. Elliott's residence nearby and was later conveyed to her home by Dr. Elliott. Miss Nina escaped with a few scratches and a sprained wrist.

Union Fair.

Rapid progress in preparation for the coming fair, Dec. 13 and 14, is being made by the various committees and sub-committees. The services of Major R. H. Hendershot, the original drummer boy of the Rappahannock, have been engaged for the opening night, Dec. 13.

One feature of the entertainment will be a drum solo—imitation and explanation of an engine on the Grand Trunk railway system, pulling the finest and most superbly equipped train of cars ever placed on wheels over the favorite tourist route to all eastern summer resorts, Niagara Falls, Thousand Islands, Highlands of Ontario, White Mountains, and the resorts of the New England coast. This imitation is so natural that if the audience will close their eyes they will imagine there is an engine in the room.

South Church Notes.

A number of women met in the renovated South church parlor, now a handsome and cheery room, last Friday afternoon to form a "Woman's Union of the South church." Included in the furnishings of the new parlor are a sofa, chairs, table and a picture given by Miss Barrows, Miss Abbott and Miss Giddings.

The officers of the South church Y. P. S. C. E. for the next six months are: Pres., Miss Edith Valpey; vice-pres., Miss Mabel Carter; treas., George B. Hopley; secretaries, Miss Florence Abbott and Miss Harriet Carter; chairman of committees—prayer meeting, Miss Farmer; lookout, Miss Lois Cummings; floral, Miss Ida Farnham; social, Miss Lucy Mason; missionary, Miss Cole; music, Ralph Ross; correspondence society, Miss Florence Cummings.

The social and missionary committees of the South Church C. E. society arranged a social at the church vestry last Friday evening, which was beneficial and enjoyable, both. The inclemency of the weather had some effect, no doubt, in keeping many away, so that the attendance was not as large as hoped for. Several papers on China were read by various members of the society, games were played, Chinese melodies given and a social time enjoyed by all. The small vestry looked like a museum of curiosities, maps, coins, scrolls, photographs and knick-knacks. Light refreshments were served.

Frye Village.

Miss Harriett G. Dodson spent several days this week at the home of her brother, Charles W. Dodson in Malden.

Wm. M. Wood gave each of the pupils at the Frye Village school and the parents, tickets to the Florists and Gardeners' show. This is an annual custom of his.

Miss Harriett G. Dodson has severed her connection with the Davis & Furber Machine Co., at North Andover, where she was employed as assistant stenographer.

Mrs. Fred B. Goff has been substituting at the Frye Village school during the illness of the teacher, her sister, Miss Dollie N. Farnum.

Social Club's Dance.

Owing to other attractions, the assembly and dance of the Andover social club scheduled for Friday evening, Oct. 26, was postponed until last Friday evening. On that evening the dance was held in Pilgrim hall, about twenty-five couples attending. Thomas' second orchestra played very nicely for the dancing, so that the long order was much enjoyed.

The floor management consisted of T. Connolly, director, W. Matthews and T. Maloney, assistants, T. Stuart, W. Morrisey, J. Sweeney, F. McManus, J. McCafferty, P. Mahoney and C. Hurley, aids.

Andover Gas Problem.

Andover, Nov. 15, 1900.

To the Editor of the Townsman: Will you kindly allow me to reply to your editorial of Nov. 9th. A charter was taken out for a Gas plant some time ago in the interest of the Andover Electric Company. This charter is good today. It is not a new idea with the gentlemen that own the charter as they have talked the matter over several times a year for a good many years, but as our territory was about to be invaded by a foreign Company we believed it was time for us to act, and we believe this Company can put in a Gas plant that will be satisfactory to every patron who wishes to take gas. The plant will be put in for cash, which is now subscribed for, all by parties living in Andover but three. One party in Boston takes $5000, one in Charlestown $1000, and one in Lawrence $1000. They take the stock for an investment.

I believe there are in Andover wise men enough to manage such an enterprise and money enough to build it. The Taxes the Town will receive from such a business will help the Town and so will the water tax they pay. The men employed will live in Andover and will help build up our beautiful town.

I am told in Boston that the New England Gas & Coke Company will in a very few years lay pipes from their works in Everett as far as Lawrence, and why then will not the Andover Gas Company take gas from that Company?

I hope the people of Andover will see their own interests in this matter and properly attend to it before it is too late.

JACOB W. BARNARD.

Pretty Tableaux.

Incidents of the Republican parade on Monday evening, Nov. 5, which were omitted from the account in last week's Townsman, have since been called to our attention.

Among the specially prominent decorations on Cuba street were those at Mrs. James Saunders' residence. The whole house was brightly illuminated and in the open doorway, which was draped with bunting, stood two little maidens dressed all in white, each waving the stars and stripes. The glare of red fire made the lassies stand forth conspicuously in the framework of the door. The names of these young maidens were Marion Saunders and Lizzie Gordon.

At another house in Abbott village, the home of Hugh Kydd, a similar picture presented itself. Another little girl, all in white, stood in the doorway waving enthusiastically two American flags. This house, also, was brightly lighted and an arch of Japanese lanterns spanned the road.

Annual Meeting of Andover and Woburn Branch of Woman's Board of Foreign Missions.

The 10th annual meeting of the Andover and Woburn branch of the Woman's Board of Missions was held at the Congregational church at Winchester, yesterday.

Mrs. E. Y. Hincks of this place, president of the branch, conducted the opening devotional exercises. Mrs. F. W. Whitmore, also of Andover, read the records and reports of the auxiliaries were given by Miss E. Josephine Wilcox of Medford. News from the missionaries came from Mrs. W. S. Greenough and work among the juniors was described by Miss Elizabeth C. Mitchell. The treasurer, Mrs. G. W. Dinsmore of Lawrence, reported that $3024.50 had been collected and distributed.

Papers were read by Mrs. Newton, prepared by Mrs. Burley and by Miss Childs. The prayer meeting was conducted by Mrs. S. B. Capron.

Rev. D. A. Newton, pastor of the Winchester church, opened the afternoon session with prayer. Reports were submitted by several of the ladies and glimpses of the missionary life at Fochow were given by Miss E. J. Newton. The principal address was delivered by Mrs. Alice Gordon Guleck, a foreign missionary supported by this branch.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Edward Y. Hincks, Andover; vice-presidents, Mrs. W. C. Demain of Malden; Mrs. D. W. Hood of Woburn, Mrs. C. W. Huntington of Lowell, Mrs. Elisha Loomis of Bedford, Mrs. D. A. Newton of Winchester, Mrs. C. H. Oliphant of Methuen, Mrs. Edward Smith of Ballardvale, Mrs. C. E. Swett and Mrs. Joshua Colt of Winchester; recording secretary, Mrs. F. W. Whitmore, Andover; corresponding secretary, Miss Clarissa A. Briggs, Lexington; home secretary, Miss E. Josephine Wilcox, Medford; junior auxiliary and mission circle secretary, Miss E. C. Mitchell, Winchester; C. E. secretary, Miss Emma O. Nichols, East Lexington; treasurer, G. W. Dinsmore, Lawrence; auditor, Mrs. Frank Emerson, So. Lawrence.

Singing Class at the Guild.

The second trial meeting of the Singing Class was held last night and as there was an improvement in numbers, it is thought best to hold another trial meeting next week on Thursday evening, Nov. 22nd, at 7.30 p. m.

Be sure and come, all those who are interested, as this is the last opportunity to show your preference.

Want Laws Enforced.

The following is the text of a petition now in circulation among the different churches in town, and is receiving a large number of signatures:

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the town of Andover:

We, the undersigned citizens of the town of Andover, do hereby most respectfully petition your honorable board to exercise your authority in the enforcement of the laws of the state, which regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors by the druggists of this town

Blackstockings vs. Tigers.

The football game between the Tigers of Methuen, and the Blackstockings of this town will take place at Glen Forest, tomorrow, Nov. 17. Game called at 2 o'clock. Both teams are very evenly matched, the Methuen team having a slight advantage in weight. Last year the Blackstockings won, and the Methuen team is looking for revenge. Whichever team wins will earn the victory, as both teams will contest every inch of ground. It is hoped by the local team that a good crowd will go over and do some cheering. Nobody will be allowed to go unless armed with a horn or cowbell.

EXETER WON.

The Blue and White Defeated by Weight and Team Play.

Fully 5000 people braved a chill north-west wind for three hours on the Andover campus last Saturday afternoon, to watch the annual struggle for supremacy on the gridiron between the great preparatory school rivals, Phillips Andover and Exeter. On either side of the field the long stands were bright with the colors of the two schools, the blue on the west, the red predominating on the east. Along the ropes stood the partisans of one school or the other, while many more occupied places on carriages, brakes and in the windows of nearby houses.

The Exeter team came on the field first, soon followed by her Massachusetts rivals and to the unprejudiced observer, the chances of the Exeter aggregation seemed very bright, for they were a husky lot, beefy and nimble on their feet. At 2.15 Referee Morse flipped up a coin and the choice fell to Hogan who decided to defend the south goal and give Andover the ball.

The story of the game is soon told. Exeter won on weight and superior team play. Her touchdown in the first half was difficult of attainment although she had the advantage of the strong wind to aid Brill in his punting. But with Captain Collins and Cotton playing, the Andover team put up a strong defense. When they went out on account of injuries, the former tearing a ligament and the latter breaking two ribs, Exeter commenced to gain through Cooney, who had played well backed up by Collins, and by sheer weight carried the ball to the 10-yard line. On the next line up Lettig went around left end for a touchdown. Brill failed to kick the goal.

In the second half Exeter plugged away at the tackles, Lettig, Brill and Hogan gaining ground at nearly every rush until they had the ball on Andover's 25-yard line. There Andover received the ball but Stoddard's punt was blocked and it was Exeter's ball on Andover's 20-yard line. After gaining by tackle and centre plays to the 5-yard line, Exeter lost ten yards for offside and one attempt to gain on a double pass play failing, Brill tried for a place kick from the field but the ball went wide.

Andover punted from her 25-yard line, Matthews regaining the ball at the centre of the field on a fumble. After failing to gain, Stoddard made a poor attempt at a goal from the field and it was Exeter's ball on her 25-yard line. From there, by consecutive rushes, Exeter carried the ball 95 yards for a touchdown, Lettig going over, making most of her gains through Cooney and Botchford and the centre of the line. During this time Andover substituted Bissell for Botchford, and Barney for Chase, while Strasburger went in for Lasley and King for Knibbs on Exeter's eleven. Brill failed on the attempt at goal and the game soon ended with the score 10 to 0 in Exeter's favor.

Outside of tackles, the eleven were very evenly matched, with Andover a little stronger at guards and ends, but weaker in the back field after Cotton and Collins were sent to the side lines. Levine played a great game for Andover but did not have the assistance he did last year in the Exeter game. Reeves had a game to punt against in the first half and made the mistake of punting too high. Only once did he punt properly and that was from the 25-yard line after the ball had been kicked in touch. Andover should also have tried Exeter's weak end more. Her only material gains were made between tackle and end.

For Exeter, Lettig, Captain Hogan, Brill, Rockwell and Connor played gilded football, in fact, the Exeter team seemed to play as one man, and therein was the difference between the eleven this fall.

The Andover eleven appeared somewhat overtrained last Saturday.

Abel W. Brown, ex-captain and quarterback on this year's eleven at Phillips, came back Saturday to see the game.

The captain of next year's football team at Phillips academy has not been chosen but it is stated that the choice lies between Collins, Weeks and Kinney with the probabilities about in that order.

Dance at West Parish.

The first assembly at Grange hall this season was held last Friday evening under private auspices. Unfortunately the weather was adverse to the large attendance of those who secured invitations and the number present to enjoy the excellent program was limited. Thomas' orchestra, as usual, played to suit the "Queen's taste," at least, so said the dancers.

During intermission refreshments were served in the lower hall. Among those present were young people from the West Parish, the centre and Tewksbury.

Charles L. Bailey, John A. Morrill and George L. Averill were the promoters of the dance and masters of ceremony.

Obituary.

JONAS SPAULDING.

Mr. Spaulding died of heart disease, at his home on Bartlett street, on Saturday morning, Nov. 10, at the age of sixty-seven years and eight months. He was a native of Townsend, Mass., and resided there until 1885, when he removed to Andover, for the sake of its educational facilities for his children.

The next year he built the house on Bartlett street, which has since been the family home, although the personal superintendence of his various business plants have kept him away from Andover much of the time. From a boy he was engaged in manufacturing, at first in the line of barrels and staves at Townsend, and for the last twenty-three years also in the production of leather-board. This last product proved very popular for export to foreign countries as well as in the home trade, and three mills were employed in its manufacture, at Townsend, at Milton, N. H., and at North Rochester, N. H. In addition to this he had a pulp mill at Newport, Vt., and a barrel and stave factory at Fremont, N. H. He was a remarkably successful and prosperous man. He secured and deserved property and success by the practice of the sterling, old-fashioned traits of energy, industry, uprightness and honesty. He treated his employees with justice, fairness and generosity, and so there were never any strikes or lock-outs in his business.

Mr. Spaulding gave up his business cares and came home about eight weeks ago and has steadily declined since. He left a widow, three sons, educated at Phillips Academy, and one daughter, educated at Abbot Academy. The sons have been associated with him in business. Brief services were conducted at his residence here on Tuesday morning by Rev. Messrs. Shipman and Carpenter. The burial was at Townsend, where Rev. F. D. Sargent of Connecticut, a former pastor, officiated. A large number of Townsend citizens were in attendance, together with delegations of workmen from various factories, and the unstinted floral gifts attested the universal respect in which Mr. Spaulding was held.

C. C. C.

MRS. GEORGE A. HARDY.

In the death of Mrs. Ruth D. Hardy her family has met with an irreparable loss. Although in rather poor health for some time, she passed away gently and unexpectedly Nov. 7th, at the age of 58. Her married life of over thirty years was spent in the home in West Andover. Of that home she was the comfort and light. The neighborhood also shared in her beneficent and Christian helpfulness. For many years she has been an earnest and active member of the church in North Tewksbury. A faithful, devoted, and self-oblivious wife, mother, and neighbor, and lovely character, she will be much missed by all with whom she came in contact.

The funeral, which took place last Friday, was attended by a large company of relatives and friends. Seldom on such occasion is so deep sorrow manifested. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Perce, pastor of the North Tewksbury church, and Rev. E. W. Hyde, a former pastor. "In the Palace of the King" and "Thy Will Be Done" were tenderly sung by her friends, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Trull, Mrs. Frank B. Trull and Mr. Albert Trull. The burial was in the family lot in the West Parish cemetery.

Mrs. Hardy is survived by her husband, George, her daughter, Eva A., her son, Henry G., and two sisters.

Stoned in China.

This morning's Boston Advertiser has a despatch from St. Petersburg under the date of Nov. 15, which gives interesting information concerning Prof. G. F. Wright and son, formerly of Andover. It says:

Prof. G. F. Wright of Oberlin college, and his son, F. B. Wright, have arrived here after a five months' journey in Siberia and Central Asia to study glacial phenomena. Minister Conger procured them a permit to travel in the interior of China. While going to Mongolia they observed boxers drilling and practicing contortions outside of Peking with wooden swords and spears. Upon their return they heard Chinese gun practice 15 miles distant from the capital, which was ridiculed in Peking.

While in Tientsin they were stoned by the mob until they bribed the police to interfere. The Russian vice-admiral, Alexieff, forwarded them, June 4, by a construction train and wagon, under Cossack guard, to Harbin, the triangular crossing point of the Siberian railway, where American material is brought up by way of the Amur and Sungari rivers.

Eighty miles below Blagovestchensk, capital of the Amur government, communications were obstructed, but they got within 30 miles by wagon. The Chinese were expected to attack the village, and the entire population, with the exception of Prof. Wright's party and the Cossacks fled.

Prof. Wright observed Cossacks burning Chinese villages, and he passed through a burning city of 10,000 people. He counted 100 bodies in the Amur River within five minutes.

Death.

September 25, Frederick E. Brown, son of Mrs. Isabella Brown and brother of J. W. and A. A. Brown, Mrs. D. G. Alexander and Mrs. John Alton, a native of Andover, Mass., aged 31 years and 9 months, at Alameda, Cal.

Richard Ellis for Mayor.

The Republican municipal caucus were held Monday night and as a result the municipal ticket is now fairly nominated except for the Superintendent of Streets and Mayor who must be nominated in convention.

The majority selection has been made, and there will be but one name placed before the convention and that name will be Richard W. Ellis.

Mr. Ellis won a signal victory at the caucus carrying every ward, and defeating Mr. Holt by a vote of 224 to 588. His nomination will be unanimous at the convention.

The superintendent of streets contest was closer. A very pretty fight was waged between Hudson, Beal and Bailey. It resulted in Hudson securing 15 delegates, Beal 13, and Bailey 9. With 19 votes necessary for a choice this will make a very interesting contest, with the chances apparently in favor of Hudson.

While Hudson leads in the number of delegates, Beal led in the popular vote having 558 votes to 750 for Hudson. The Bailey men control the situation. Mr. Hudson carried wards 1, 2 and 3, Beal wards 4 and 5, while Bailey carried ward 6.

The aldermen nominated were: George Mowatt, ward one; John M. Fleming, ward two; W. P. White, ward three; William H. Forbes, ward four; Robert F. Pickles, ward five; and Henry B. Lane, ward six.

The councilmanic nominees were as follows:

Ward one, Gustave Pilch, Richard Koerner, Walter W. Hager, Ward two, Thomas Barker, John P. Gaudes, William H. Sylvester, Ward three, Joseph Shattuck, William H. Moore, and Charles A. Moore, Ward four, Edward L. Coupe, Henry Fontaine and Fred O. Richardson, Ward five, Charles H. Choate, John A. Evans and Charles H. Morgan, Ward six, John Beedies, Andrew Campbell and John Halstead. The vote in detail was as follows:

FOR MAYOR.
Wards, 1 2 3 4 5 6 Tot
Ellis 440 279 151 322 648 402-2182
Holt 141 101 40 91 134 81-588

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS.
Wards, 1 2 3 4 5 6 Tot
David Bailey, 122 71 57 139 270 91-750
Melvin Beal, 120 113 60 146 217 202-553
J. S. Chambers, 65 40 13 53 105 50-326
C. H. Hudson, 34 141 70 69 108 124-761
Wm. S. Paisley, 26 15 6 8 79 21-135

FOR ALDERMAN.
Ward one—George Mowatt 388
Ward two—John M. Fleming 31
Ward three—Otto Kress 87
Ward four—William H. Forbes 369
Ward five—Robert F. Pickles 692
Ward six—Henry B. Lane 442

The city committee for next year will be as follows:

Ward one—David Beattie, Albert A. Bennett, James Forbes, Henry Gosling, Emil G. Knapp, George Mowatt, John J. Muehlberg.
Ward two—Fred N. Abbott, Thomas Barker, Fred N. Chandler, John D. Decker, Archie N. Frost.
Ward three—Thomas H. Bear, Edward Kelley, George A. Merrill, Julius W. Schaeke, John J. Bear.
Ward four—Melvin Beal, Charles W. C. Coffin, Henri A. Fontaine, Charles W. Howell, John S. Powell, Edgar S. Riddout, Moses E. Woodbury.
Ward five—Thomas Craven, Albert C. Fish, Thomas Hughes, Charles F. Sargent, Charles Miller, Herbert W. Hornig, Thomas Farquhar, Albert Douglas, Frank Wyde.
Ward six—Francis A. Hestland, Arthur C. Dame, Arthur M. Gainger, William H. Morgan, Walter A. Savage, Clarence E. Sherman, George W. Verrell.

THE LINE UP.

The Democrats held their municipal caucus Saturday and the expected happened in almost every case. The unexpected was the defeat of Vigor for alderman in ward five. Quite a shake-up took place in the personnel of the city committee. The results were as follows:

For mayor—James F. Leonard.

For aldermen—Ward one, Frederick P. Sherman; ward two, James P. Flynn; ward three, Andrew Griffin; ward four, John F. Connor; ward five, John J. Murphy; ward six, Edmund B. Belknap.

For superintendent of streets—Maudie F. McKenna.

For common council—Ward one, William Hoffarth, Frank P. Cheney, Robert Hilmer, ward two, John Casper, Richard Linehan, Michael F. Scanlon; ward three, Henry P. Hart, James E. Ryan, Joseph F. Kennedy; ward four, William B. Bartley, Fred S. McCarthy, John W. Fatham; ward five, Martial Gagne, Michael J. O'Brien; ward six, John Donohue, Timothy Lynch, Thomas Maxwell.

ON THE COMMONWEALTH.

Nearly 200 passenger agents and transportation friends of the Dominion steamship line, by special invitation, visited the handsome new ship, Commonwealth at the Hoosac dock Monday evening and were present at a reception and dinner.

The gentlemen came from all parts of the country and from Canada to recognize the company's latest evidence of improving the Boston and Liverpool passenger service. All pronounced the new boat one of the finest passenger steamships that has come to this port and commended Messrs. Richardson, Mills & Co. and Mr. C. J. Jameson and Mr. Richard Farley, their New England managers, for exceptional business courtesy. As matter of fact, the after-dinner demonstration is to be considered as the most complimentary affair of its kind that has ever been tendered any steamship company at this port.

Among the many guests present was Henry Tongue of this city of the well known agency of Thomas Revington. The menu was pronounced equal to any table-de-hote in Boston and all pronounced the occasion one of the most delightful ever enjoyed. The ocean service of this line is now unsurpassed by any trans-oceanic line.

DEATH STATISTICS.

There were twenty-two deaths reported to the board of health last week, of these eleven were under five years of age and six over fifty. The causes of death were: Cholera infantum, uterine cancer, old age, infantile debility, scarlet fever, intestinal obstruction, suicide by pistol ball, wrethritis, diabetes, one each; premature birth, two each; heart disease, pneumonia, three each; still born, five.

NO SYMPATHY WITH FADS.

"I don't see any sense in these collecting fads," said Mr. Woop.

"Not I," agreed Mr. Cooph. "Why some of these fellows seem to make a regular passion of it."

And he gazed out of the window and glared at the rent collector, who had just left.—Stray Stories.

A SOLDIER OF THE QUEEN

Visits in Lawrence and Tells of the Fighting in the Transvaal.

Harry Moss of the Burmah Mounted Infantry of Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, is in this country and the first time in his life and is visiting at the home of his mother, 5 Merrimack View. Mr. Moss has been a resident here for the past four years and when her son was met in Boston last Thursday by members of the family, it was the first time he had seen them for eight years.

He is a typical Englishman and a soldier of the Queen. Thirty-five years of age, he is about 5 feet, 10 or 11 inches high, stout, reddish hair and round face, fine healthy complexion, and just the correct accent. Yesterday he was seen by a Telegram representative and he was filled with experiences of the Boer war and other engagements in which he had taken a prominent part, and all these he willingly related to the scribe. He carries dates and distances in his head, and in a very interesting manner he carried the writer through the details of the Boer war in which he himself had shouldered the musket and marched many weary miles.

Mr. Moss was born in Ipswich and when he was 17 years of age, 18 years ago, he joined the 1st Buffs, as it was then called, and he was sent to India and it was while he was there that his folks moved to this country. During that space of time a brother died and with this exception, all of the members of the family whom he left in '92 are still living.

While in India he was in the Tirah expedition under the late General Sir William Lockhart in 1897-8.

In telling of his part in the Boer war, his story was substantially as follows: "After having been in India and Burmah for eight years, the Burmah Mounted Infantry of which I was a member, was ordered to South Africa, and accordingly with 100 men from each of the three regiments in Burmah and about 350 little ponies, we sailed from Rangoon, Jan. 7, 1900. We arrived at Cape Town on the 14th of February, and after a wait of three days, marched straight up the country to Modder river, arriving there just in time to see Mr. and Mrs. Cronje get into the train to go to Cape Town prison. That was two days after his surrender after the battle of Paardeburg.

"We joined Lord Roberts' forces at Oosfontein and on the following day took part in the battle of Oosfontein.

"Two or three days afterwards we advanced up the country, chasing the enemy and finally engaged them again at Poplar Grove. By night we had driven them out and Kruger and Steyn who were here, fled to Bloemfontein. Three days after we met the enemy again at Abrahamskraal, better known as Driefontein, and after that we advanced with very slight opposition, to Bloemfontein, the enemy retiring in a northeasterly direction along the railway.

"At Bloemfontein, Roberts tested his forces, the majority of the troops remaining there for a little over a month. The day after arriving there, 1200 mounted men, of which I was one, were sent out to the east of the town, to Thabancher, to hold the path between Thabancher and Ladybrand. When we had been there about eight days, we received information that the enemy in great numbers were advancing towards Ladybrand to occupy Thabancher and it was not long before 12,000 Boers came upon us. After holding them all day, we retired at 6:30 p. m. towards Bloemfontein and after marching all night we arrived at the Bloemfontein water-works at 3 o'clock the following morning.

"Scarcely had we unsaddled our ponies when the Boers began to shell us, and we were quickly driven back to Koon Spruit, a mile and a half from the water-works, and just as we got there, the Boers opened on our left flank and also from some of the hills, onto our right flank. The whole of our force, 300 odd wagons, and a number of mules were captured and 32 men were taken prisoners from my company. In all over 300 prisoners were taken and in addition to these, one whole battery and 12 guns and other equipment were captured.

Finally, we drove the Boers back after a fight of 12 hours, from 4:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

"In the meantime, we sent information to Bloemfontein and Lord Roberts at once dispatched a division to relieve us. Our three companies withdrew to Bloemfontein and the fresh division remained where we had been and after a fight the following day, drove the Boers past the water-works.

"We stayed in Bloemfontein 24 days and after joining General Ian Hamilton's column, we operated on the right bank of Roberts' army on the march to the Vaal river. With Hamilton, we went over the same ground where formerly we had been driven back by the Boers, and we made rapid advances. We at length occupied a town called Wimborgburg, after having been opposed all the way and having engaged the enemy every day for seven days. We drove the enemy away from Venterburg and then advanced to Lindley and from there to Kroon Stad. In each place we had to fight in order to drive out the enemy. Next we went to Heilbron a crossed the Vaal at Groblers' river.

"Subsequently we went to the left bank of Roberts' army and operated with General French, advancing to Johannesburg where we took in the action at that city. From there on to Pretoria we met with very little opposition. At Pretoria, Hamilton's forces were sent to Irene to strengthen General Buller's position. I was sent to the hospital, suffering with blood poisoning in my right arm.

"At Thabancher, I was bitten on the leg by a pony and as the bite could not be attended to blood poisoning set in. At length, after being operated on, I was sent to Bloemfontein hospital and after being there a month, I was sent to the hospital at Cape Town. I was here until Saturday, September 15, when I embarked on the "Kildonan Castle" with 1400 sick and wounded, for Southampton, 6,455 miles distant. When we arrived there, some were sent to the hospital, while others, among them myself, were sent to our respective depots. "I left on the 9th of October, and was given a furlough of six months, but have had the date of return extended to the 18th of December."

Mr. Moss bears the mark of his accident on his crippled thumb, and will wear it to his grave. He says that having seen South Africa in its worst state, he was very little impressed with the country. He contradicted the talk in the papers that the soldiers did not get good care in the hospitals, for to his sorrow he had plenty of chance to learn how they are treated. The care was very good, he said, and everything possible was done for the benefit and comfort of the inmate.

He has had many rough experiences, but in addition to these, many good times are enjoyed by the boys. The days are warm but the nights bitter cold, he said, and the men were much exposed, having but a single blanket to wrap about them at night. Many interesting anecdotes were related and Mr. Moss is a very interesting man to meet. It is sincerely to be hoped that he will thoroughly enjoy his visit here for surely he is welcome to all the hospitality which Lawrence has to extend to any of the "Soldiers of the Queen."

MATRIMONIAL.

DAME—DIMAN.

At the home of George H. Diman, 62 Bailey street, a notable wedding was solemnized Monday evening when his daughter, Miss Edith A. Diman was united in matrimony to Arthur Carroll Dame, son of B. F. Dame, former principal of the Oliver Grammar school of this city.

The bride was given away by her father at 6:30 o'clock and the knot which made the couple man and wife, was tied in the parlor under an arch of chrysanthemums, lilies of the valley, and smilax, by the Rev. E. P. Fuller, David C. Scott of Providence, R. I., officiated as best man and the bride's sister, Miss Susie Diman, was bridesmaid.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white satin, wore a veil, and carried a large bunch of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids looked charming in a gown of white muslin over white tulle, and she carried a large bunch of roses.

Subsequent to the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Dame, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Diman, and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dame of Newmarket, N. H. About a hundred and fifty friends of the young couple called during the evening to congratulate them and extend their hearty wishes for the future happiness and prosperity of the newly wedded couple. Merriment filled the home of Mrs. Diman, and the brilliantly illuminated house with its many inmates of the fairer sex, their beautiful and becoming gowns of various styles and colors, presented a scene of rare splendor and gaiety. Tanner of Haverhill catered, and in his usual fine style served ices and cakes to the large gathering.

Every one of the guests spent a most enjoyable evening but much to the disappointment of all, Cadet Walter G. Diman was not present to participate in the festivities. Walter is a very popular young man and everybody wanted to see him, but the rules of Annapolis Naval academy state that a cadet shall be given leave of absence in case of death, only, so there was nothing for him to do but wait for Carroll and bride to call at Annapolis while on their honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dame left the city on the 9:35 train for Boston and were accompanied as far as Andover by about twenty-five of the guests. The couple will enjoy a trip to New York, Washington, Annapolis, and other Southern cities and will be at home to friends at 81 Bailey street every Wednesday after the first of December.

The ushers were Moses Merve of North Andover, David C. Scott of Providence, R. I., James B. Ewart, and P. B. Moss.

Many costly, useful and ornamental gifts were received by the couple, and among the more noticeable were: A sideboard from the directors of the bank. Among the many presents were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dame of Newmarket, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. Scott and family of Providence, R. I., Mrs. Kelley of Stoughton, Mrs. Nevins of Providence, R. I., Mr. and Mrs. Lord of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Worth of Dorchester, Dr. and Mrs. Stansfield of Haverhill, Miss Annie Bradford of New York, Mr. and Mrs. William Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Moss and family, Mr. and Mrs. Truell and family, the Misses McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald of North Andover, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Ewart, the Misses Frances Littlefield, Grace Desmond, Helen Curran, Edith Lyall, Mary and Emma Steere, Messrs John H. Bedell, Graham Seddon, Ernest Curran, David C. Scott of Providence, R. I., and many other friends of the young couple.

METHUEN.

Ladies' night at the Methuen club will be observed Nov. 22.

Ernest G. Marble of Boston spent Sunday at his home in this town.

William Clark has severed his connection as grocery clerk with E. J. Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wood of Lowell visited relatives in town Sunday.

C. H. Tenney and family will sail for home Wednesday next, after a six weeks' sojourn in Europe.

Miss Mary E. Upham, gospel soloist, who is assisting at the meetings at the Baptist church is being entertained at the home of Miss Albina Howe.

The Christian league of Methuen are planning for Union Thanksgiving services at the Congregational church Thursday afternoon, Nov. 29, at 5 o'clock.

The funeral of Margaret Garvin of Haverhill was held in St. James' church of that city Monday, and the body was brought to this town for interment.

George F. Smith and family have removed to Worcester where Mr. Smith has secured an excellent position. Mr. Smith was until recently boss carder at the Methuen Woolen Co., mill on Osgood street.

Work is progressing well upon the new Lawrence and Methuen electric line. The ground has been broken to Railroad square, and the tracks are rapidly being laid. If weather continues favorable the line will be well advanced by the time snow flies.

Lucy J. Webster a well known resident of Salem Center died at her home in that town Saturday afternoon, at the age of 82 years, 8 months. The funeral will be held at 1.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be made in Pine Grove cemetery, Salem, N. H.

One of the horses belonging to Maggon and Chubb attached to a delivery wagon made things lively along Broadway about 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon by running away. The horse was left standing near Whitman street, and becoming frightened in some way, started up Broadway. It had a clear path until it reached Dame's store, when it was stopped by Edward Moriarty. The harness was broken considerably and the wagon was somewhat damaged. One of the horse's legs was also cut. There was no one in the wagon. This horse has made several attempts to run away before.

A regular meeting of the Samuel Adams Chapter, D. A. R., was held at Grange hall, Saturday afternoon. There were about 45 members present. The chapter was entertained by Mrs. Granville E. Foss, Mrs. Woodburn J. Nichols and Mrs. John Q. Hill. The meeting was an interesting one, the subject "Benjamin Franklin" being considered. At the roll call the members responded to their names with a quotation from the writings of Franklin. Miss Ella P. Bodwell read a very interesting and instructive paper on the life of Franklin, which was followed by another equally interesting paper by Mrs. W. L. S. Greaves on "Franklin as a Statesman." Both papers were well received. During the meeting Mrs. Alvira Gove Russell sang "The Star Spangled Banner," and Charlie Gabor, little son of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Gabor of Lawrence waved a flag as she sang, which made it very picturesque and interesting. The chapter was honored by the presence of Mrs. Julia B. Croft, the real daughter of the Revolution, who is 90 years of age. It was voted that the next meeting be held on the evening of December 17 and that the anniversary of the Boston tea party be celebrated on this occasion. The anniversary comes on the 16th of the month, but as that Monday night following. The gentlemen will be invited on this occasion. The chapter now has 58 members and new members are constantly coming in.

"You Can't Catch the Wind in a Net."

Neither can you cure nervous diseases by using drugs or compounds that only stimulate or deaden the nerves. The delicate nervous system must be fed and sustained by pure, rich blood, and the one medicine to purify and vitalize the blood is Hood's Sarsaparilla. That is the prime object for which it is made and it has won success unequalled in the history of medicine. You should know by actual experience what it will do for you.

Nervous - "I was weak, always tired and nervous. After taking five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could sleep well, felt cheerful and could do my work." Mrs. Emma Smith, 68 E. Mitchell Street, Oswego, N. Y.

THE DEMONSTRATION.

The Republicans of the town turned out in full force Monday night to take part in the demonstration, over the Republican victory. Those who did not take part in the parade gave vent to their enthusiasm by lighting the houses and burning red fire. The parade formed at the corner of Broadway and Stafford streets at 8.30 o'clock. It was not a long one, as only the Otis and Lawrence companies participated, but they received a hearty reception along the line of march. The formation of the parade was as follows: Mounted escort, Chief Marshal John S. Tapley; chief of staff, John Q. Hill; aids, Everett Richards, John M. Graham, Frank W. Bodwell, Robert Dow Joseph Lee, Richmond S. Brown, Henry Lea, George Pedler, Wesley Messer and George E. Crosby; Eighth Regiment Drum corps, 20 pieces, M. Mulken, leader; Methuen Farmers, 65 men, Thomas N. Hubbard; captain; West Ends and Naval Queens, 40 men each, George Grey, admiral of Queens, Edgar Ellis vice admiral, and Joseph Roberts, captain first company.

West Ends and Albert Fishie captain second company; carriages containing Representatives Joseph E. Buswell and Archie N. Frost, Postmaster John E. Sawyer and members of the town committee, Selwin A. Dodge, Otto Seiferth and W. H. Sawyer; Excelsior Drum corps, 10 men, Edgar Metcalf leader; Arlington Mills Rough Riders, 50 men, James W. Farquhar, captain.

The procession proceeded down Stafford street and continued over the following route: Stafford to Inland, to Chase to Annis to Tenney to Centre to Broadway to Oakland avenue to Almont street to Arnold to Lowell to Barker to Pelham to Lowell to Hampshire to Broadway to High to Central place to Park street to Broadway to Central place where the line was dismissed. After the parade an oyster supper was served to the companies in Odd Fellows banquet hall.

The Rough Riders made the best appearance of all the companies. They marched in fine order and kept the line well. The Excelsior Drum corps which accompanied them gave some excellent music. All along the line of march the houses were lighted with lamps in the windows, Japanese lanterns strung on - side and national colors flying. The portraits of McKinley and Roosevelt were displayed in many places. As the procession passed along the residents of the street had plenty of red fire and skyrockets with which to salute them. There were three bonfires along the line of march, one on Chase street, one on Bicknell's hill, and one on Almont street. There was a display of fireworks at the Arlington cotton mill, and at Supt. Towns' house on Chase street. J. H. Lyons' residence on Broadway was ablaze with lights, as were many others along the line. The parade was saluted with a volley of rockets as they passed the Methuen fire station, and answered with cheers. High street, between Broadway and Stevens presented the best appearance of any street along the whole route. The residents of the street had taken special pains to make the houses attractive and had succeeded well. This handsome display was due to the enthusiasm of Alfred Sager, Frank Remick, J. S. Tapley Selwin A. Dodge and Arthur J. Crosby who reside on this street. Central street also presented an attractive appearance, the homes of Supt. of Schools A. E. White and Agent William D. Hartshorne of the Arlington being illuminated. As the parades passed the Home club and the store of A. L. Dame they were welcomed with rockets and red fire. The line of march was completed at 10 o'clock.

Selectman Alfred Newsholme has returned from a trip to St. Louis.

Patrolman J. Colvin Taylor has fully recovered from the injuries received some time ago, and has resumed his duties as night patrolman in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. William Merrih David D. Woodbury and Horace Rounds have returned after a two weeks' hunting trip in the wilds of Maine. They spent the time in camp near Lincoln, Me., and report a most enjoyable outing. Mr. and Mrs. C. Walter Douglas were with the party and will remain a short time longer.

The contract for the Weisbach lighting service in this town has been renewed, and this system of lighting will be used another year. The lights had deteriorated, and it was doubtful at one time whether the service would be renewed. The lights have given better service of late, however, and it was decided last Saturday to renew the contract with the company for one more year.

The fourth social dance by the Old Line town hall Friday night promises to be an enjoyable one. Cars will leave for Lawrence and No. Andover at the close of the dance. The committee of arrangements comprises Henry Butters, president; G. A. Lewis, secretary; John Q. Hill, treasurer; S. V. Hart, J. E. Buswell, A. N. Russ, John W. Hall, O. A. Peaslee, S. E. Young, H. E. Willett.

Selectman Halliday picked a cluster of blueberry blossoms on Osgood hill, North Reading, Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Frank H. Clough class '82 J. H. S., now a practitioner in Mattapoisett, was in town yesterday visiting old friends.

Town Clerk Leitch has transmitted the official returns of the recent election to the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

A public hearing will take place in the town hall this evening on the petition of the Lawrence, Groveland and Ipswich street railway company for trackage privileges in this town.

It looks this morning as if Jack Frost would prove the winner in the Thanksgiving football contest between the Crescents and Tigers. However, a little thing like this will not cause Manager Adams to relax his effort to bring success to the home team.

The selectmen of Boxford and of town traversed the town boundaries yesterday and located 35 of the bound stones, which protects this town from the invasion of its neighbor, Messrs. Parshurst, Austin and Day represented Boxford. Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Towne entertained the two boards with true hospitality.

A petition from Gen. William J. Dale, summer residents and neighbors in the vicinity has been received by the selectmen in remonstrance against the proposed location of the Lawrence, Groveland and Ipswich street railroad. At the rate railroad schemes in this town are maturing it is very unlikely that the quietude of the neighborhood will be disturbed by noises and disturbances of this objectionable character very soon. It has come to the popular belief that the granting of a franchise very seldom means a railroad in operation.

A petition has been received by the selectmen purporting to come from residents along Railroad street remonstrating against locating the railroad tracks of the Haverhill and Andover company upon the westerly side of the street. It has been reported to the board that several of the signatures attached to the document are unguine and were placed thereon by other than those whose names were represented. The appearance of the petition it would seem indicates the report to be well founded. The "circulatory medium" is said does not even exist in the locality in question from whence the document appears to come.

The first lecture in a series to be given under the auspices of class '01, Johnson High school, will take place Wednesday evening in the town hall. "True American Patriotism" is the subject by Hon. John Wilber Fairbank of Boston. The lecturer will illustrate by elaborate views, "The Ride that Saved an Empire" One hundred views will accompany the dramatic story of Dr. Whitman's ride of four thousand miles across the nation in an effort to save to the United States in 1842, the Oregon territory. The lecture has secured the favorable notice of the press. The effort of the pupils should receive the encouragement of the public as the proceeds will be devoted to graduation purposes and expenses attendant thereon.

It is a pretty diminutive cavity into which some meddlesome people in No. Andover cannot manage to insert themselves. Apparently not well satisfied with the pressure from various sources to induce the highway commissioners to recognize Lawrence street as a suitable place on which to build a specimen road, some one in capricious criticism of Adams and Daw ventures to induce others to believe that the road now in process is being built of rotten stone and unfit materials. The others who believe—to the extent of one or two—were found readily enough, and an appeal was made to the commissioners by these meddlers.

The story related to the commissioners, was investigated the other day by Mr. Mills of Boston, the "rotten stone" from Jones' ledge, found to be most excellent material and Adams and Daw were ordered to keep right on as they had begun.

The fiction of the meddlers happily worked no harm except that it hindered the contractors a few hours, and may serve to make it more difficult in the future for any continued recognition from the state authorities.

The work on Lawrence street is progressing finely and when completed will undoubtedly be the best piece of road within the town limits.

The public can rest assured that if Adams and Daw cannot discount the patchwork on highways which the town has suffered this last season, from an "experienced" artisan, they won't be long in the state service.

If the commissioners could only know the source of the complaint, they would scarcely find enough to the source to sustain a righteous complaint. The potatoes in that hill turned out pretty small.

ANDOVER NEWS

WEST PARISH.

It was voted at the last meeting of the Grange that each member bring some special Thanksgiving offering to the next meeting, which shall be distributed among needy families and the balance sent to the Little Wanderers' Home, Boston.

At the regular meeting of the Grange last Tuesday evening the following subjects were discussed: "Branches of agriculture open to our farmers. Have they been profitable the past year?" a—Market gardening; b—Milk; c—Poultry; d—Fruits.

The Ladies' Seamen's Friend society of the West church, will hold their next sociable on Thursday evening, Nov. 22. Mrs. Samuel H. Boutwell will entertain the society. The main feature of the social will be in listening to the different experiences of the ladies who are to earn a dollar and relate in rhyme how they did it. A special invitation is extended to the gentlemen of the church to be present.

ROYAL

The absolutely pure

BAKING POWDER

ROYAL—the most celebrated of all the baking powders in the world—celebrated for its great leavening strength and purity. It makes your cakes, biscuit, bread, etc., healthful, it assures you against adulteration that go with the cheap brands.

Alum baking powders are low priced, as alum costs but two cents a pound; but alum is a corrosive poison and it renders the baking powder dangerous to use in food.
